100 Women in Hedge Funds' 50th Education Event:
An Evening with Robert Rubin
Wednesday, January 25th 2006 at 5:00 pm

Robert E. Rubin currently serves as Director & Chairman of the Executive Committee, Member, Office of the Chairman, Citigroup Inc. His career has included serving as Secretary of the Treasury under President Clinton and Co-Chairman of Goldman, Sachs & Company from 1990 to 1992 to name just a few of his accomplishments. He has been involved in financial markets and the nation's public policy debates all of his professional life. Issues have included financial support to Mexico during the Peso crisis of 1994, shaping Clinton's policy and focus on balancing the federal budgets, leading Goldman's risk arbitrage business long before the massive proliferation of hedge funds. Mr. Rubin will address these and other issues facing the global financial markets.

Biography

Mr. Rubin began his career in finance at Goldman, Sachs & Company in New York City in 1966. He joined Goldman as an associate, became a general partner in 1971 and joined the management committee in 1980. Mr. Rubin was Vice-Chairman and Co-Chief Operating Officer from 1987 to 1990 and served as Co-Senior Partner and Co-Chairman from 1990 to 1992. Before joining Goldman, he was an attorney at the firm of Cleary, Gottlieb, Steen & Hamilton in New York City.

Mr. Rubin, long active in national and New York City's public affairs, left the private sector in 1993 to join the Clinton Administration. Beginning with the President's Inauguration, Mr. Rubin served in the White House as Assistant to the President for Economic Policy. Directing the activities of the National Economic Council, Mr. Rubin guided the newly created NEC as it oversaw the Administration's domestic and international economic policymaking process, coordinated economic policy recommendations to the President, and monitored the implementation of the President's economic policy goals.

Upon the retirement of his predecessor, Lloyd Bentsen, Mr. Rubin was selected by President Clinton's to serve as the 70th Secretary of the Treasury. He was sworn into office on January 10, 1995.

As Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Rubin played a leading role in many of the nation's most important policy debates. He was involved in balancing the federal budget; opening trade policy to further globalization; acting to stem financial crises in Mexico, Asia and Russia; helping to resolve the impasse between the Congress and the Executive Branch over the public debt limit; safeguarding the nation's currency against counterfeiting; introducing inflation-indexed securities; strongly responding to issues at Treasury's law enforcement agencies; and guiding sensible reforms at the Internal Revenue Service. He left Treasury on July 2, 1999.

Mr. Rubin now serves as Chairman of the Board of the Local Initiatives Support Corporation (LISC). LISC is the nation's leading community development support organization with 38 offices nationwide. At the White House and Treasury, Mr. Rubin was a leading advocate for policy actions that met the need for economic development in the Nation's distressed urban and rural areas.

Mr. Rubin joined Citigroup on October 26, 1999, where he participates in the strategic, managerial and operational matters of the Company. He also serves as a member of the Board of Directors of the Ford Motor Company and on the Board of Trustees of Mount Sinai-NYU Health. In March 2000 he became a member of the advisory board of Insight Venture Partners, a New York-based private-equity investment firm that specializes in e-commerce business-to-business companies. He is also a member of the Harvard Corporation. In October 2003 he was named Vice Chairman of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Mr. Rubin's previous activities included membership on the Board of Directors of the New York Stock Exchange, Harvard Management Company, New York City Partnership and the Center for National Policy. He has also served on the Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Corporation of New York, the President's Advisory Committee for Trade Negotiations, the Securities and Exchange Commission Market Oversight and Financial Services Advisory Committee, the Mayor of New York's Council of Economic Advisors and the Governor's Council on Fiscal and Economic Priorities for the State of New York.

Mr. Rubin graduated summa cum laude from Harvard College in 1960 with an A.B. in economics. He received a L.L.B. from Yale Law School in 1964 and attended the London School of Economics.

Mr. Rubin is the author of In An Uncertain World: Tough Choices from Wall Street to Washington [Random House, 2003, with Jacob Weisberg], which was a New York Times bestseller as well as being named one of Business Week's ten best business books of the year.
