Biographies:

Eloise Yellen Clark
Founder and CEO
OmniQuest Capital, LLC

Eloise founded OmniQuest Capital, LLC in November 2002. The firm is a SEC registered investment advisor specializing in the management of multi-manager and multi-strategy alternative investment portfolios. The firm manages OmniQuest I, LLC, a market neutral fund of funds comprised of a concentrated portfolio of niche-oriented hedge funds. The firm also acts as sub-advisor and co-manager to the FPA Multi-Advisor Fund, LP, which is a value-oriented fund of hedge funds with a compelling 11-year history of absolute returns.

The firm currently manages $160mm in assets for high net worth individuals. Among the seed investors in OmniQuest I, LLC are Greg Maffei (CEO of Liberty Media), Jay Hoag (Founder of Technology Crossover Ventures) and Richard Barton (Founder of Expedia).

Ms. Clark has over 22 years experience in the financial markets with particular expertise in equity, currency and interest rate derivatives. From 1982 through 1996, she worked in investment banking. In her last position, as managing director of the corporate capital markets group at Bankers Trust, she was responsible for investment grade corporate sales and origination on the West Coast. In this capacity, she had responsibility for structuring and execution of derivative transactions, debt origination, structured investments, and strategic risk management products.

Prior to joining Bankers Trust in 1989, Ms. Clark worked in the interest rate swap group at Merrill Lynch. She designed and managed the systems used to hedge the interest rate swap book and later marketed swaps to financial institutions. She worked extensively with mortgage-backed securities and related derivative products. Ms. Clark started her career in 1982 as a foreign exchange trader at Citibank.

Prior to founding OmniQuest Capital, Ms. Clark was a visiting professor at UCLA where she taught The Trading Game and Case Studies in Capital Markets and Investment Management. She holds a MBA in finance from the Anderson School of Management at UCLA and a BA in economics from Barnard College, Columbia University. Ms. Clark is a member of the Business Economics Council at UCLA and Co-Chair of the Shaheen Scholarship Committee for A Place Called Home in South Central Los Angeles. Ms. Clark resides in Los Angeles with her two children.

Doreen Mochrie
Partner, Chief Marketing Officer
Cyrus Capital Partners

Doreen is a Partner at Cyrus Capital Partners. She is Chief Marketing Officer and head of investor relations including new business development, marketing and client service. Before joining Cyrus, Ms. Mochrie was a Managing Director at Lombard Odier Darier Hentsch where she helped develop and build their U.S. institutional business. Previously, she was a Senior Vice President at Deutsche Asset Management with responsibility for sales and client service to major corporations, foundations, endowments and institutional consultants. She was also a vice president of institutional sales and client service at Sanford C. Bernstein & Company. Ms. Mochrie received a B.S. in Applied Mathematics and Economics from the State University of New York at Oswego. She received an M.B.A. in Finance from Adelphi University. Ms. Mochrie is currently a member of 100 Women in Hedge Funds, High Water Women, and sits on the Board of Directors of the Association of Investment Management Sales Executives.

Judith Posnikoff, PhD
