Biographies

Leon G. Cooperman, Chairman and Founder, Omega Advisors, Inc

After 25 years of service, Lee retired from his positions as a General Partner of Goldman, Sachs & Co. and as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Goldman Sachs Asset Management at the end of 1991 in order to organize a private investment partnership, under the direction of Omega Advisors, Inc.

At Goldman Sachs, Lee spent 15 years as Partner and from 1990 to 1991, as Of Counsel to the Management Committee. In 1989, he became Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Goldman Sachs Asset Management and was Chief Investment Officer of the equity product line including managing the GS Capital Growth Fund, an open-end mutual fund, for one and one-half years. Prior to those appointments, Lee spent 22 years in the Investment Research Department as Partner-in-charge, Co-Chairman of the Investment Policy Committee and Chairman of the Stock Selection Committee. For nine consecutive years, Lee was voted the number one portfolio strategist in the Institutional Investor All-America Research Team survey.

As a designated Chartered Financial Analyst, Lee is a senior member and past President of the New York Society of Security Analysts. Lee is a member of the Board of Directors and Chair of the Audit Committee of Automatic Data Processing, Inc., a Trustee of Saint Barnabas Hospital, and Chairman of the Saint Barnabas Development Foundation, a member of the Board of Overseers of the Columbia University Graduate School of Business, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Cancer Research Fund of the Damon Runyon-Walter Winchell Foundation.

Lee received his MBA from Columbia University and his undergraduate degree from Hunter College. He is a recipient of Roger Williams University's Honorary Doctor of Finance and was inducted to Hunter College's Hall of Fame. He and his wife Toby have two sons and two granddaughters.

Steven B. Pokotilow, Partner, Stroock & Stroock & Lavan LLP

Steven B. Pokotilow, Co-managing Partner of Stroock's Intellectual Property Practice, concentrates in the litigation and transfer of domestic and international patent, trademark and copyright rights. As manager of the intellectual property portfolios of a number of clients, Mr. Pokotilow is also regularly called upon to negotiate licensing agreements as well as to provide advice and counsel on the intellectual property issues related to joint ventures and mergers and acquisitions.

As recent technological innovations have created new intellectual property rights and tested the boundaries of existing ones, Mr. Pokotilow's roster of clients has grown to include computer hardware and software vendors, multi-media publishers and providers, manufacturers of television navigation systems, arterial puncture-closure medical devices, laboratory animal systems and products, ID pet recovery systems, high voltage underground products, and voice processing components. Other clients include developers of medical instruments, garments, luggage and cosmetic products, entertainment conglomerates, electronic tracking platforms, publishers of toy, hobby and sport memorabilia and investors in IP development ventures.
