

10th Anniversary Event with Mayor Rudolph Giuliani

April 20, 2011

5.30 PM registration for 6.30 PM prompt start
New York

Each of us can recall where we were on September 11, 2001. It was a moment in time that changed us individually and collectively as a country forever. One individual, in particular, was thrust into a role he never imagined. Mayor Rudolph Giuliani's leadership was critical in the hours, days and months that followed the attacks. He was faced with unprecedented challenges of overwhelming loss, the deepest of grief and economic devastation to the City.

During that same year, 100 Women in Hedge Funds was formed. At a time when things seemed bleak, 100WHF looked to the future with conviction and determination for success. Today, ten years later, the organization has grown tremendously.

Our speaker, Mayor Giuliani, will recount that historical day, his thoughts, deeds and actions, and will highlight how New York City and our industry have recovered over the past decade.

Biography

Mayor Rudolph W. Giuliani, Bracewell & Giuliani LLP

Rudolph Giuliani, a name partner in the law firm Bracewell & Giuliani since 2005, has played a key role in the efforts of the New York office to expand and enhance the firm's corporate, broker/dealer, bankruptcy and white-collar criminal defense client service teams. In addition to his decades of government and public service, where he gained extensive trial, appellate, public policy and regulatory experience, Mr. Giuliani honed his many skills and talents in the private sector, as both a member of prestigious New York law firms and as head of Giuliani Partners, a consulting firm.

A native of Brooklyn, New York, Mr. Giuliani began his career as a law clerk to United States District Court Judge Lloyd F. MacMahon in the Southern District of New York. In 1970, he joined the office of the U.S. Attorney and was soon named Chief of the Narcotics Unit and promoted to the position of Executive U.S. Attorney. In 1973, at age 29, Mr. Giuliani was placed in charge of the police corruption cases resulting from the highly publicized Knapp Commission report.

Two years later, Mr. Giuliani was recruited to Washington, D.C., where he was appointed Associate Deputy Attorney General and chief of staff to the Deputy Attorney General. In 1977, Mr. Giuliani returned to New York to practice law and joined the firm of Patterson, Belknap, Webb and Tyler.

In 1981, President Reagan appointed Mr. Giuliani to be U.S. Associate Attorney General, the Department of Justice's third highest position. In this role, Mr. Giuliani supervised the U.S. Attorney offices nationwide, as well as federal law enforcement agencies, including the Bureau of Corrections, the Drug Enforcement Agency and the U.S. Marshals Service. In 1983, he became U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of New York, where he earned a national reputation for his efforts to eradicate organized and white-collar crime and government corruption. During his high-profile prosecutorial career, Mr. Giuliani secured 4,152 convictions, with only 25 reversals.

Following his tenure as a U.S. Attorney, Mr. Giuliani returned to private practice as a partner at White & Case and later as a partner at Anderson, Kill & Olick.

In 1993, Mr. Giuliani was elected as the 107th Mayor of the City of New York and was re-elected in 1997. By the conclusion of his second term in 2001, almost 700,00 New York City residents had moved from the welfare rolls to work and the city's crime rate had fallen by 57 percent, prompting the FBI to rate New York as America's safest large city. A number of novel law enforcement strategies implemented under Mayor Giuliani's leadership became models for other cities around the world, including the CompStat program for monitoring criminal activity, which won the 1996 Innovations in Government Award from the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University.

In recognition of his leadership of the city following the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks, Time magazine named Mr. Giuliani the 2001 "Person of the Year." He was knighted by Queen Elizabeth II and was presented the Ronald Reagan Presidential Freedom Award by former First Lady Nancy Reagan.
