April 8, 2014 at 6:30 PM
London

How can a more gender diverse working environment benefit you and your company? Gender diversity is critical to any workplace and studies show that gender diverse teams perform better than single-gender teams.

Elizabeth Coffey, a Senior Partner at Korn/Ferry's Leadership & Talent Consulting Practice, will highlight relevant findings from the latest research, which examines the real blocks to progress on gender diversity, and share experiences from her work with senior executives to implement enterprise-wide strategic change.

Learn what you can do to enhance gender diversity at your firm and how this can contribute to your career goals and the goals of your firm.
