San Francisco Board Match Sponsored by The Volunteer Center

March 2, 2016 at 5 PM
San Francisco, CA

The board members at more than 100 nonprofit organizations want to make a match among 1,000 professionals like yourself who seek to serve on boards. With your financial, operations and marketing expertise, you can help local nonprofits better serve the community. Find your leadership role at a nonprofit by attending the annual Board Match. Registered attendees will receive a list of participating nonprofits prior to the event, so you can identify the organizations of greatest interest.

RSVP via the link below and be sure to select 100 Women in Hedge Funds as how you heard about the event. Come by our table in the exhibit hall to pick up a sticker so we can locate each other in the large and crowded room. For more information, please visit The Volunteer Center's website here.

Whether or not you attend Board Match, please complete the 100WHF nonprofit board questionnaire here.

THE BOARD MATCH

About The Volunteer Center

Founded in 1946 by the Junior League of San Francisco, The Volunteer Center was the city's central agency for volunteer placement. A pioneer in the field of volunteerism, The Volunteer Center Serving San Francisco and San Mateo Counties connects and strengthens a network among nonprofit organizations, the business sector, and ordinary citizens united by the overarching goal of improving local communities through meaningful and impactful volunteerism.

Nationally recognized as a leader in the field of cross-sector community engagement, The Volunteer Center is governed by a voluntary board of directors representing a distinguished group of professionals in the fields of business, education and civic service.
