Annual London Salute to the Global Angels

September 29, 2016 at 7:30 AM
London

Listen to keynote speaker Pooneh Baghai at the Annual London Salute to the Global Angels and network with fellow 100WHF Global Angels over breakfast in the iconic setting of The Shard.

The unprecedented global economic growth of the past 25 years partially obscures four dynamic trends with potential to trigger massive micro and macro changes. Learn how the catalysts of mass urbanization in emerging markets, technological change, demographic aging, and increasing global connectedness will impact companies, markets and investment management. According to Pooneh Baghai, in grappling with these issues, firms must also address investors' rising expectations of active relative to passive management, the rise of outcome based solutions, intensive regulation, disruptive technologies and the battle for talent. Consider how your firm shapes up in the context of these and bring your questions.
