100 Women in Hedge Funds held its annual charity gala in London last night. All proceeds from this event and the recent garden party in Geneva will go to Wellbeing of Women, a charity focused on research and education benefitting the health of families in the UK and beyond.

Thanks to the efforts of our volunteer members, and the huge support of the hedge fund and wider financial industry, the proceeds will enable Wellbeing of Women to continue its vital work in the community, including research during pregnancy to screen for and help prevent Cerebral Palsy in babies.
